

Cynthia Walton's Story

I sponsor a light each year in memory of my Husband, Lionel Walton, who died in October 1974 of stomach cancer. We had only been married for ten years.

We adopted a son, who was eight years old when my husband died. I have had rather serious health problems all my life and Lionel was going to care for me in "sickness and health", but the tables were turned!

Lionel was a wonderful, gentle man and very caring for his family and myself. He was only 38 years old when he died – being kind and thoughtful all his life.
